Comiskey Will Stick to the League. CINCINNATI, Sept. 27 .- Captain Comiskey's name having been mentioned in connection with the National Baseball Association, he says emphatically that he has had nothing to do with it, and would have nothing to do with it, because he is conident the new association will fail. He says ball playing is a profession with him, that the National League is sure to be stronger next year than it ever was, and he will stick to it loyally as well as on business principles. While other sectional leagues may pay, he is confident there is no chance for another national organization, as the National League occupies that field as fully as can be permanently sup-

The New York Store GIANTS WON ANOTHER to-day, to confer with Ward, of the New York Club, on the date for the Temple series of baseball games. He wired Ward he would be here to-morrow, but that the receptions to the champions at Baltimore would occupy their time until next Thursday. Ward wanted the games to begin next Tuesday, but they will not begin until Thursday, and the dates for the seven games will be fixed to-morrow. All the receipts, except necessary expenses of the grounds, go to the players.

> To Amateur Baseball Managers. In order to show the comparative work of the minor baseball teams in the State the Journal will publish a table at the close of the season, giving the number of games played, won, lost and percentage. To make this of real value to the different clubs the managers or captains should make a complete list of games won and lost at home and abroad, giving the number won and lost from each club. To secure recognition in the Journal table a club must have played at least ten games. There are now five clubs, perhaps more, claiming the amateur championship—Lebanon, Elwood, Kokomo, Union City and Knightstown. The only way to decide the question is by the actual record. To prevent inaccuracies the number won and lost from each club should be in the table. These tables should reach the Journal as soon as possible. The first table will be published as soon as eight clubs have been heard from, and will be added to from day to day until all are

AMNESTY TO SAINTS

POLYGAMOUS MORMONS PARDONED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Civil Rights Restored to Those Who Are Now Obeying the Law of the Land-The Pullman Strike.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 .- The President has issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, Congress, by statute approved March 22, 1882, and by statutes in further-ance and amendment thereof, defined the crime of bigamy, polygamy and unlawful cohabitation in the Territories and other laces within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, and prescribed a penalty for such crimes; and "Whereas, On or about the 6th day of October, 1890, the church of the Latter-day Saints, commonly known as the Mormon Church, through its president issued a church no longer to sanction the practice of polygamous marriages, and calling upon all members and adherents of said church to obey the laws of the United States in reference to said subject matter; and "Whereas, On the 4th day of January, A. D., 1893, Benjamin Harrison, then President of the United States, did declare and grant full pardon and amnesty to certain of-fenders under said acts, upon condition of future obedience to their requirements, as is fully set forth in said proclamation of amnesty and pardon; and "Whereas, Upon the evidence now furnished me, I am satisfied that the members and adherents of said church generally abstain from plural marriages and polygamous cohabitation, and are now living in obedience to the laws, and that the time has now arrived when the interests of public justice and morality will be promoted by the granting of amnesty and pardon to all such offenders as have complied with the conditions of said proclamation, including such of said offenders as have been convicted under the provisions of said "Now, therefore, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, by virtue of the powers in me vested, do hereby declare and grant full amnesty and pardon to all persons who have in violation of said acts committed either of the offenses of polygamy, bigamy, adultery or unlawful cohabitation under the color of polygamous or plural marriages, or who, having been convicted of violations of said acts, are now suffering deprivation of civil rights in consequence of the same, excepting al persons who have not complled with the conditions contained in said executive proclamation of Jan. 4, 1893."

PERPLEXING PROBLEM.

A Strike Commissioner Discusses the Pullman Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 .- The United States commission appointed to investigate the Chicago strike, after a two days' executive session for the purpose of discussing and deciding on the nature of the report to be submitted to the President, adjourned this evening until the last week in October. The commission was able to harmonize such differences of opinion as existed, and there will be no minority report. The report will be a vigorous document, so one of the members of the commission said this evening, and will, after summarizing the facts as set forth in the testimony and discussing at considerable length the schemes suggested for adjusting and avoiding differences between labor and capital. give its conclusions. These conclusions the commissioners have decided not to make public. It would, they say, be discourteous to the President to do so.
"The solution of the problem with which we are to deal," said one of the commissioners, "is a more difficult one than that of the civil war. There the government knew what it had to do-meet force with force. This problem is beset with all the perplexities that surround the rights of capital and of personal liberty. We have had the experience of other countries to guide us. The report will discuss the question in all its phases, and, I think, will offer something practical, though, of course, any legislation must be tentative.' It is believed the report will lay special stress on arbitration, and will offer a general scheme of arbitration for the settlement of future difficulties.

Seals Diminishing Rapidly.

WASHINGT( N, Sept. 27.-Assistant Secretary Hamlin, of the Treasury Department, has returned to the city from this tour of the customs districts of the Pacific coast and a brief visit to the Pryblloff islands. Mr. Hamlin stated to-day that the Northwestern frontier was greatly in need of a more comprehensive police system. He arrived at the seal islands after the kill-ing season had closed. About fifteen thousand skins had been taken, he had learned. From the best information obtainable, he said, the seal herds were diminishing very rapidly, indeed, and only the greatest care could prevent their entire destruction. Sealing in the open sea had been carried on this season with great success, and many of the sealers had returned home loaded with skins. It is not unlikely that Mr. Hamlin will definitely recommend that sealing be entirely suspended for a period in order to prevent the complete destruction of the sealing industry.

Ezeta's Mission to Mexico. WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 .- The reported plan of Mexico to unite all the Central American states in one great republic is doubted at the Mexican legation here. The reports state that General Ezeta's visit to Mexico is part of a plan for the extension of the new republic from Texas to the Isthmus of Panama, and it is added that all the states save Guatemala favor the union. It is said, however, by the Mexican authorities here that they have never heard such a plan suggested in Mexico, and that no negotiations to that end have ever been made among the Central American states. On the contrary, Mexico has, they say, quite enough territory already. Ezeta's visit to Mexico is believed to be due to the fact that he is a Mexican by birth. Afterward, when his brother became President of Salvador, he main-tained close personal relations with his na-

REV. HUNTER'S FIGHT

HOT ON THE TRAIL OF TERRE HAUTE POLICE AND GAMBLERS.

Another Case of Hoemophilia at Martinsville-Trains Flagged by a Ghost Near Jeffersonville.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 27.-Rev. R. V. Hunter, of the Central Presbyterian Church, who on Sunday created a sensation by attacking the trotting association for selling for $5,000 the wheel of fortune and hieronymus privileges at the recent race meeting, this evening published a card in which he tells how he furnished the grand jury some time ago with evidence on public gambling, but could secure no indictments because, as a grand juryman told him, the officials would not permit it. He

"The gambler has immunity in this county, and everybody knows it. Two men practically govern our police because they secured the places for the police commisisoners. The people pay taxes to uphold a police force, which is run in the interests of a few men who have a business interest that must not be affected by police interference. I have been looking up some of the jobbery connected with our city government, and I am astounded. We need a civic federation, and we are going to have it. The morals of Terre Haute have been debauched long enough by a few conscienceless, heartless and shameless libertines."

Next week evangelist Chapman begins a series of meeings here, and Rev. Mr. Hunter's card is thought to be a sensational call on public sentiment.

NINETEEN WILD CARS. They Run Down a Three-Mile Hill and Demolish the Station.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 27.-Nineteen loaded freight cars on the Lake Erie & Western broke from a train at the top of a hill three miles from Lafayette last night and ran back to the station here, where the Chicago Big Four passenger was standing, ready to start for Indianapolis. Yard-master Harry Brighty, of the Big Four road, fortunately turned a switch and threw the wild cars on a siding, and they crashed into the ladies' waiting room, demolishing it and piling themselves in a heap. The only casualty known at this heap. The only casualty known at this writing was that to Harry Washburn, a hackman. He was caught by the Wreck and severely injured. His horses were killed and buried beneath the debris. He was partially buried, but officers Rinard and Powell dug him out. His leg is hurt, and it is feared he has internal injuries. The scene of the wreck has been visited by thousands to-day.

Flagged by a Ghost.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 27 .- Connecting this city with New Albany, Ind., five miles south of here, is a branch of the Pennsylvania lines, known as the dinkey road. Over this road the passenger trains operated by the Pennsylvania Company pass every thirty minutes, and also at intervals the Monon trains, which go from New Albany to Louisville over this road. Several times during the past week the Pennsylvania trains have been signaled to stop at Stile's station, located about three miles below here. In each case the engineers and firemen have seen what appeared to be a man standing in the mid-dle of the track frantically moving his hands. When the train stopped nothing could be seen of the man, the figure disappearing as if into air. The Monon train has also been stopped in the same way. As this crossing is not a flag station, the trains would not stop unless flagged in such a way as to give the engineers the impression that something was wrong. The crews all claim it is an apparition. As they are all steady, well-known citizens, and not inclined to be in the least fanciful, they are believed by all the citizens. Several men have been killed at that crossing. Whatever the explanation of the mystery, the trains are often stopped.

Homeopaths at Elkhart. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ELKHART, Ind., Sept. 27 .- The seventh semi-annual meeting of the Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan Homeopathic Medical Association took place in the Century Club rooms in this city to-day. Among those who took part in the exercises were the following from Chicago: Dr. T. S. Hogue, editor Medical Visitor and treasurer and professor of practice at Hahnemann Medical College; Dr. H. C. Allen, editor Medical Advance, formerly professor of materia medica at Ann Arbor, and now dean of the Hering Medical College; Dr. T. C. Against Terre Haute Council.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 27.-Judge McNutt to-day decided that the Council elected this spring had no right to abolish the office of city attorney, as it did to elect a Republican successor by immediately reestablishing the office. Foley, the former incumbent, claimed that under the new McHugh law the term of his office was extended to this month. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court. At the time it was sought to remove Foley by abolishing his office the Council, by resolution, removed the street commissioner and fire chief. The street commissioner and hre chief. The street commissioner sued for his salary, but Judge McNutt decides that the Council had the right to do so. This case will also be appealed to the Supreme

First Annual K. of P. Pienic. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 27 .- The first annual Knights of Pythias picnic was held here to-day, and proved a great success. Delegations were present from all the lodges in Montgomery county, and Uniform Rank companies from Lafayette, Logansport, Veedersburg and this city. The speaking was held this afternoon at the fair ground. Among the speakers were Gen. J. R. Carnahan, Gen. Lew Wallace, Mayor Bandel, Rev. J. W. Greene and W.

Whitington. Dying in a Strange Town. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FARMLAND, Ind., Sept. 27 .- A young man by the name of Semans is lying at the point of death at a boarding house in this city. He came here from Anderson, where he says he was sandbagged by highwaymen. Dr. Davis, of this city, reports that he has a fracture at the base of the skull, and is in a critical condition. He says his home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he lives with his mother and sister.

CABINET MEETING TO-NIGHT.

Propositions to Create a Board of Education and Other Reforms.

The Mayor will meet his cabinet to-night for discussion of several propositions for the amendment of the charter. The chief one and one that numbers among its numerous late converts, it is said, the Mayor himself is the proposition to abolish the School Board and devolve its duties upon a board to be appointed by the Mayor. It is urged that with such a change a deal like the Ricketts purchase could never be consummated because there would be four or five checks to the expenditure of money. The friends of the reform instance the appropriations in the Board of Public Safety. The estimates this year were first made by the board's clerk and then were in-spected by the board. They then went to the controller, who had to approve them before they could be submitted to the Council. The Council finance committee had a scrutiny of the figures before they were reported for passage, and then the Council as a whole voted upon the report. This does not take into account the inter-est the Mayor and his cabinet would have in an appropriation likely to arouse gen-eral attention, the Mayor being the bull's eye of responsibility for the action to be taken. The cause of the proposed change is the arbitrary disregard of public sentiment and public good by the School Board in the purchase of the Ricketts property. There is also a proposition to be con-sidered to regulate the payment of street assessments. The contractors have had difficulty in making collections and unscrupulous persons have taken undue advantage to extort large sums out of those who failed to pay on the moment. Both parties in their political nominations for the Legislature have taken cognizance of the abuse, and the next Legislature wil be asked to set a certain time for pay-ment of such claims or to authorize their collection as taxes are collected. There is a movement to have the charter provide for a park commission. The Commercial Club has aroused a large interest on the subject. The financial necessities of the city which last fall led to the opinion from the city attorney that salaries of policemen and firemen were payable quarterly instead of monthly have now passed away and the Legislature will be asked to change so as to authorize a change the old method of payments. The other amendments under consideration include one to make the benefits of the Barrett law applicable only in sums of over $10 or other like trivial amounts. The various boards would like to have authority to order repairs without reference to the Board of Public Works, and the chief of police ought to have some legal authority in disposing of unclaimed property. The building inspector it is held ought to have more powers in condemning and ordering removed dangerous rubbish,

A Terrible Dream.

Kate Field's Paper. Mrs. Blank went shopping. Mr. Blank went with her. No one can explain just why he went, for she didn't positively compel it, and he is still regarded as sane. He went, anyhow. She wanted buttons. Those at Jenkins's store were too small, much too small. So she went to Kahn's and Poznanski's and the Merchants' Supply; then to Poznanski's and the Merchants' Supply and Kahn's. At Jenkins's again, they showed her the same buttons and she found them too large. Blank guessed it a case of expansion caused by the heat; it seemed hot to him. She got almost to another place-not quite-for they saw her coming and locked up for the night. So she went home.

That night Blank's hard breathing woke his tired wife, so she woke him, in turn.
"What's the matter?" she demanded.
"I-I had a dreadful dream," he gasped "I thought we were both dead, that you had gone to heaven, and that I-I handn't." "How perfectly awful," she cried, grasp-ing him convulsively around the neck, "to be separated, and —"

"We-we weren't separated," moaned Blank with a shudder; "I-I could have en-dured that. But no-no. I dreamt you were to be allowed to go shopping forever, and that I was condemned to go with you."

"Pole on Whist."

One of the most versatile men of the century is Mr. William Pole, who is about to publish a new volume on "The Evolution of Whist." Born even before Waterloo, he has been by turns a university professor, a consulting engineer, an examiner in mu-sic, an organist and a delightful player at whist. Just half a century ago he published a treatise on the steam engine, which had the effect of making him professor of civil engineering at Bombay. On returning to London he settled down into a steady practice, but the desire to impart his knowledge to others became too strong, and for eight years he lectured on his favorite theme at Gower street. He has served either as a private member or as the secretary of many commissions, including those on iron armory, Whitworth guns, railways, water supply, river pollution and science museums. Moreover, he is largely responsible for the great development of the rallway system of Japan.

"Dear Sir-At every opportunity, when my name has been used in connection with a battle with you for the world's championship, you have endeavored to belittle my claim for a fight on the grounds, as you put it, that I am not in your class, or that you have not seen the color of my money. I am very well aware of the fact that, although I have earned more money than you at fighting since I have become middle-weight champion, you can buy and sell me financially, no doubt, your faculty of saving being better than mine. Therefore, I hope that a ten-thousand-dollar side bet will not stand as a barrier against securing a match with you. The amount of money that I shall put up has decided many a championship contest in the past, and I hope you will not refuse when you sign for a $25,000 purse. Such is offered by the Olympic Club at the present time. You will find my name attached without asking for a loser's end. In order to show my sincerity to the public at large, I will make you two propositions: "First-That we engage the largest hall in New York city and give a boxing exhi-bition, four rounds, scientific points only, for the benefit of the poor of New York city. I will give you any pledge that you may demand that I will not attempt to knock you out In case competent judges decide that I am not in your class, so far as skill and science are concerned, I will never ask for a match with you again.

"Second-I ask to be allowed to formally challenge you to give me a chance to meet you to a finish to decide the world's championship, according to Marquis of Queensbury rules. In order to again show my sincerity. I hereby deposit the sum of $10,000 as a side bet, with the privilege of increasmons-O'Donnell Wants to Fight. LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 27.-Champion James J. Corbett, who appeared here tonight in "Gentleman Jack," was made acquainted with the fact that Fitzsimmons had published a formal challenge to fight him. The champion read the letter aloud to Steve O'Donnell and when he came to the place where the middle weight pledged himself to not attempt a knock out, he roared with laughter. "Well, Steve, what do you think of that?" said Corbett, while O'Donnell smiled. After he had finished reading the challenge, Corbett turned to the reporter and said: "Of course I expected Fitz would do something of this sort, but he is too ambitious. I will attend to him, however, when the proper time comes and will answer his letter in a few days. I don't propose to fight him," continued the cham-pion, "until he has defeated some one worth mentioning. What's the use of my fighting a middle weight when there are plenty of men who can do him easily. He wants to skip over all the other heavy weights and tackle me.

"That's right, too, Jim," interposed Steve O'Donnell. "Ill fight him and take him any way he likes." Then turning to the reporter O'Donnell said: "You just say for me that Fitz need not go so far. I'll make the same proposition to spar him in New York city that he makes to Corbett and then if I don't prove that he is out of his class, it will be time for him to talk about meeting

Her Parcel Struck Twelve.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The embarrassment and the amusement that a simple incident can sometimes occasion were illustrated on a Market-street electric car a day or two ago. The car was filled, and one of the passengers was an attractive young woman who had a large package on her lap. Suddenly there was heard the peculiar burr-r-r that the old style of clocks make as a warning that they are about to sound the hour. The young woman almost leaped from the seat, colored to a bewitching crimson, and further attracted an unde-sired attention by a half-smothered exclamation. In another instant the musical tones of a bell were heard, and the distressed young woman excitedly gathered the package to her bosom, as does a mother in attempting to silence the cries of a window. Meanwhile the clock, which was on the hour of 12, continued to toll out the numbers with painful exactness and slowness. By the time the strokes had reached a half dozen every person on the car was laughing, and before the last strike was delivered the holder of the timepiece had recovered her self-control, and, after a brief battle for dignified composure, had given herself up to a full share of the gen-child. One time she seemed to be on the verge of throwing the package out of the
